About the Speaker:

Dr. Ruiz is the director of the Los Angeles Institute of Clinical Dentistry and a member of the editorial board for Dentistry Today. He is also an Associate Instructor at Dr. Gordon Christensen Practical Clinical Courses in Utah and an independent evaluator of dental products for Clinician's Report. Dr. Ruiz has been named as one of the "Leaders in CE 2006-Present" by Dentistry Today. He is the author of the textbook "Supra-gingival Minimally Invasive Dentistry; A Healthier Approach" and has also published several research papers, as well as many clinical articles on adhesive dentistry, occlusion, and esthetic dentistry. He regularly lectures at all major dental meetings, nationally, and internationally.

About the Course:

Clinicians often avoid partial-coverage bonded restorations because they perceive them to be more difficult and less predictable than full crowns. Placing supra-gingival margins ultimately allows clinicians to make porcelain restorations more predictable, stress free, and healthier for the gingival tissue. In this course, Dr. Ruiz will demonstrate material selection and a new paradigm in preparation and cementation. Dr. Ruiz will cover benefits, indications, and principles of tooth preparation for posterior metal free onlays and crowns. He will follow by discussing techniques for impression, temporization, and a sensitivity-free, easy cementation. Dr. Ruiz will also discuss patient education and motivation for this type of dentistry.

What You Will Learn:

- How supra-gingival, minimally-invasive onlays are healthier for patients and more predictable and enjoyable for the dentist.
- Indications for onlays vs. all-ceramic crowns
- Differentiating all-ceramic restorative material options
- Tooth preparation technique for ceramic onlays
- Bonding systems and sensitivity-free cementation technique
- Adhesive temporization techniques.
- Crucial occlusal principles needed for success and predictability.
